This bill is necessary and important to the National Archives, but it is not significant to our activities. In my opinion, further action by your office is unnecessary.

Present plans provide for maintenance of Agency archives in the new Records Center The 50-year provision of the proposed legislation will not effect this plan until the records have aged to that extent. Then, if it is considered undesirable to transfer the records to the National Archives, the exemption provision of Public Law 110 can be applied.
